

Writing Targets:

I can use the correct features and sentence structure matched to the text type we are working on.

I can develop characters through action and dialogue.

I can establish a viewpoint as the writer through commenting on characters and events.

I can add well-chosen detail to interest the reader.

I can use relative clauses.

I can build cohesion within paragraphs.

I can organise my writing into paragraphs to show different information or events.

I can use commas to clarify meaning or avoid ambiguity.

I can choose the style of handwriting to use when given a choice.

I can choose the handwriting that is best suited for a specific task.

Mastery Targets:

During the editing process I will sometimes re-order sentences if I feel it impacts on the reader.

Detail is often added to my writing by expanding noun phrases and sentence starters with effective word choices.

I adapt my sentence structures by re-ordering or embedding clauses and use different sentence lengths to create effects.

In narrative writing, my paragraphs support the plot structure and clearly signal changes in time, place and events.

My paragraphs are clearly constructed and help to guide the reader through the text.

My writing is clearly structured and organised according to the text type.